Will of a Deceased Abolitionist.

[From the Boston Traveller, Nov. 27.]
The will of the late Francis Jackson of this city has been presented for probate. It is a lengthy document, and was signed on the 28th of January last. His brother, Edmund Jackson, is made executor of the will.

He gives $100 each to Stephen S. Foster, Charles C. Burleigh, Parker Pilisbury, Lacy Stone, Lycia Maria Child, Siver Johnson, Charles Lennox Remond, Charles K. Whipple and Robert F. Wallcott, as a teken of esteem for their fidelity to moral principle and their devotion to the cause et human freedom.

For a like reason he gives to Wm. Lloyd Garrison the sum of $5,000, to be used in support of himself and wife and the education of Francis J. Garrison at Harvard College, after he shall have left the public schools of Boston. He appoints Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Wendell Phillips, Edmund Quincy, Maria W. Chapman, Edmund Jackson, Wm. I. Bowditch, Samuel May, Jr., and Charles K. Whipple, a Board of Trustees to receive funds designated in the will to be used to create a public sentiment in favor of putting an end to negro slavery.

He constitutes Mr. Phillips as President, Mr. E. Jackson as Trassurer, and Mr. Whipple as Secretary of this Board.

He also gives to this Board $2,000 to be used in aid of fugitive slaves, and in this connection speaks as follows:—

Disregarding the self-evident declaration of 1776, reof fugitive slaves, and in this connection speaks as follows:—

Disregarding the self-evident declaration of 1776, repeated in her own constitution of 1780, that "all men are born free and equal," Massachusetts has since, in the face of those solemn declarations, deliberately entered into a conspiracy with other States to aid in enslaving millions of innocent persons. I have long labored to help my native State out of her deep iniquity and her barefaced hypecrisy in this matter. I now enter my last protest against her inconsistency, her injustice and her cruelty towards au unoffending people. God save the fugitive slaves that escape to her borders, whatever may become of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

He appoints Wendell Phillips, Lucy Stone and Susan B. Antheny a Board of Trustees, and gives them five thousand dollars to be used to secure the passage of laws granting women the right to vote, hold office, &c.

He says that he has given each of his three children sight thousand dollars herefolore. The balance of his estate is to be divided into three equal parts.

The income of one part is to be given to a daughter and her children, and at their decease the principal is to go to the trustees having charge of the Woman's Rights Fund.

The lucome of the other two-thirds to his other children, and their children, and at their decease the principal is to be given to the trustees who have in charge the matter of creating a public sentiment in favor of the aboutton of negro slavery.
